GENERAL CONFERENCE

Renewing, Adapting, Sustaining

Behavior-Based Safety (BBS) process leaders require professional development to motivate, continuously improve, and sustain new results.

Renewal: BBS creates an inspiring vision of new ways to attack potential accidents, but other priorities and workplace realities wear away at the vision. It is important to periodically renew the vision and revitalize the motivation to succeed.

Networking: If you want to be successful, associate with successful people; catch their spirit and learn their ideas. Networking can also begin relationships that help long after the conference, and establish ongoing support, mentoring, and benchmarking.

New Developments: BBS is a dynamic process and new techniques are developed each year. Learn from the experts, speakers, and attendees alike.

Alternative Strategies: After more experience with BBS processes, alternative path strategies begin to make sense and new opportunities unfold as you learn how others progress, what worked for them, and why.

Previous Attendees Said:

"I came away from the first two days of the conference with 8 pages of notes and suggestions on what we could be doing better or how we could improve. I think that was pretty valuable."

"The presenters were very passionate about BBS, and that, in turn, made a very attentive, and interested audience... I was very impressed with this format. Very professional."

"I appreciated the discussion into the process and the tools that were presented. The precious two days away from my duties was time well spent. I attended a BBS conference a couple of years ago and did not feel that I gained any knowledge or tools that could be applied. I will recommend to others."

"Very pleased with the learning opportunity. It is not often that I learn a great deal at a conference anymore, but that was not the case in Houston."

INTRODUCTIONS

Pre-Conference Workshop (half-day)

BBS 101

This session is designed to be an introduction to the rationale and practice of BBS for newcomers and a thorough review for participants at the workforce and management levels. The supporting roles of management and supervisors will be discussed. The support roles in BBS are less active than the participants' roles, yet more critical for success and sustainability. In addition to understanding what BBS is and how it works, managers and supervisors need to know the rationale for having a process and the strategies for ensuring it is successful.

ADVANCED TRAINING

Post-Conference Workshop (full day)

Advanced Cultural & Behavioral Tactics

BBS processes should all be continuously improved. If the same methodology persists a year or later, your process is not as effective and efficient as it could be. This session builds on behavioral processes to establish an excellence strategy framework to achieve and sustain safety culture excellence.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Managers, Supervisors, Safety Leaders, Coordinators, BBS Facilitators & Team Members, Corporate Trainers. Attendance is limited. This allows for an intimate setting and the ability to move through advanced topics at a fast pace.
