ProAct Safety Opens Registration for Next Quarterly 60 Minutes on Safety Excellence Discussion

Internationally recognized expert and influencer Shawn M. Galloway hosts the November 24 virtual forum, where business and safety leaders examine emerging thinking, new models, and lessons learned from the field.

(Houston, TX – September 23, 2026) ProAct Safety, a recognized pioneer of leadership and safety excellence strategies, will host the next session of 60 Minutes on Safety ExcellenceSM on Tuesday, November 24, 2026, from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. Central. The quarterly virtual discussion brings business and safety leaders together with ProAct Safety CEO Shawn M. Galloway to cover the latest thinking, discoveries, newly created methodologies and models, and the overall strategies, better practices, and lessons learned for those on the journey to safety excellence.

The agenda for each session is set shortly before it begins so the topics reflect what leaders are dealing with at the time. Every session also reserves time for open discussion, peer networking, and questions for Galloway.

Recent sessions have covered what a good safety year cannot tell you, the three paths organizations take toward zero, design flaws in safety strategy, the four pillars of recovery capacity, board blind spots, contractor capacity across the full lifecycle, the engagement trap, and how to run a tolerance audit. Each discussion closes with a look at the next 90 days, so participants leave with something they can put to immediate use.

Who Should Attend

The forum is built for leaders accountable for safety performance who want to get ahead of it rather than react to it:

- Executives and senior operations leaders who set direction and allocate resources, and who are increasingly asked by boards and customers to explain how safety results are actually produced.
- EHS and safety directors, managers, and corporate safety staff responsible for strategy, culture, and measurement across multiple sites or business units.
- Internal consultants and continuous improvement leaders who need current models and language to carry back into their own organizations.
- Human resources, operational excellence, and risk management partners whose work touches engagement, leadership development, and organizational performance.
- Contractor and supply chain safety leaders managing risk and capability across partner organizations.

Why Attend

- Participants hear emerging models and client-derived findings as they take shape, often well before the material reaches published articles or books.
- The group stays small enough for candid conversation with peers facing comparable problems in other industries and regions.

- Open Q&A gives direct access to an advisor whose clients include many of the best safety-performing organizations in every major industry.
- Every session is recorded for registrants who cannot attend live or who want to revisit the material with their teams.

Registration

Register for a single event or subscribe annually; both options include access to the session recording.
